

The background is a dark, atmospheric illustration of a Viking-themed triathlon. At the top, a row of wooden dragon scales is visible. Below this, a large, ornate Viking longship prow and stern frame the central text. The sky is dark and stormy, with a bright lightning bolt striking down. In the foreground, three athletes are shown in various stages of exertion: a male triathlete swimming in the water on the left, a female triathlete climbing a wooden structure on the right, and another female triathlete in the bottom left corner. The overall tone is dramatic and intense.
